

Mix chart: 6/7

The charts below show the comparison of time spent, in minutes per day, by UK's Males and Females on household and leisure activities in 2008. Summarise the information by selecting and reporting the main features, and make comparisons where relevant.

Leisure activities (Average minutes per day)	Men	Women
TV, video, radio	137	118
Reading	18	19
Sport	15	11

The table illustrates how many minutes per day were used by England residents in three activities, such as reading, sport and TV, radio, while the bar chart depicts the average time spent on others, consisting of cooking and washing, shopping, repair and clothes washing and ironing in 2008.

Overall, most of UK males spend most time on watching TV, video and hearing radio, while women dedicated the basically housework with time more than male.

In leisure activity, men prioritize around 137 minutes (over 2 hours) to watch TV, video, higher than approximately 2 hours (118 minutes) of women. Besides, reading time of male reached 18 minutes, slightly lower than by 1 minute compared to women. In addition, the figure for UK male and female for participating in sport hovered around one-fourth hour and 11 minutes, respectively.

Regarding to the data of housework, under 80 minutes was utilized by women in cooking and washing activity, while male only used a half for these tasks. With shopping, UK female went to it for 35 minutes, whereas the figure for men in this action lower by 7 minutes. Besides, once men only allocated 10 minutes for ironing, clothes washing, the total time of women on its was a thirdfold. Moreover, the time of male in repairing house account for 20 minutes, equal to double of female.